Word of Life

Bulletin Briefs – June 2010

The Ten Commandments to which Jesus refers in his answer [to the rich young man] are only to clarify the commandment of love. They are, so to speak, rules of love, they indicate the way of love with these essential points; the family, as a foundation of society; life, to be respected as a gift of God; the order of sexuality, of relations between man and woman; the social order and, finally, truth. These essential elements describe the route of love, they explain how really to love and how to find the right route. Hence there is a fundamental will of God for us all, which is identical for us all. However its application is different in every life, for God has a specific project for each person.

~ Pope Benedict XVI, Address to the Meeting with the Youth of Rome and Lazio Region, March 25, 2010

From Barbara . . .

I've recently been going through all my "stuff" and trying to downsize. It's amazing how many things I've accumulated over the years. The number of things that I've thrown away, given away, or put in a yard sale is amazing. I could probably completely equip another house. The question is "How much stuff do we need?" In today's first reading we hear how Elisha gives up his stuff by using it for the good of others. He then becomes an attendant to Elijah. Jesus tells us that we can't look at what we've left behind and be fit for the kingdom of God. Neither of these readings are condemning having things. It's what we do with them that's important. The second reading talks about freedom. We can't be ruled by what we have but by who we are and how we treat others. "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." Take time this week to look at your stuff and reflect on the role "things" play in your life.

With summer upon us many of us will be traveling and be away from our home parish. Please remember to continue your contributions. We rely on the regular giving to be able to pay our bills and maintain our parish ministries. A good way to not have to worry about this is to sign up for the Electronic Giving option. There are forms in the back of church regarding this. It's a quick and easy way to make your regular contributions. Many of you already pay your bills electronically and this works the same way. If you have any questions you can call me or Diane at the parish office.

If you are traveling and want to find out where you can go to Mass at your destination call 1-800-Masstimes or go to www.masstimes.org. Travel safely and remember that God is with you on your vacation.

May God continue to bless us all.
